Large Crowd At Millwood Reunion

Farmersville Man Experiments With New Type Grass

A new grass, which looks like king-size Johnsongrass, is growing eight feet tall in Ray McLaughlin's backyard on Murchison Street, Farmersville. And the natural hybrid sorghum almum holds out promises that sound like those of Lil' Abner's shmoos.

For example, it is easy to get started, but unlike it's first-cousin Johnsongrass, it's also easy to get rid of. It grows rapidly, comes back each year from a crown, has an enormous fibrous root system which adds huge amounts of organic matter to the soil.

McLaughlin, Farmersville Soil Conservation technician, has the only plot in this part of the state of the miracle grass.

"My backyard plot is experimental only," McLaughlin explained. "I had heard and read a lot about the new sorghum almum, and I wanted to see for myself what its possibilities are in the locality."

Planted June 1, the Farmeraville soil conservationist's grass is already eight feet tall. Its seed heads have begun to mature.

said, "and new sucker shoots will put out and form new seeds." At present market prices of $4.00 per pound, the seed alone make the crop attractive. A single seed will produce from ten to 45 stalks, and only one pound of seed will plant an acre.

Sorghum almum was introduced to the United States from New Zealand four years ago by John Coleman of Wellington. It was approved by the state Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation committee because it sprouts easily is drouth resistant, holds soil, grows fast, and builds soil by putting back large amounts of organic material.

Paul Hood, sorghum almum grower at Claude, said, "This crop will graze more stock per acre; it makes good pasture in less time; it is faster growing than Sudan and is adaptable to all types of soil."

Hood said the plant has a solid stem and is sweet when kept grazed. "In our pasture demonstration, stock showed a preference for it over native grasses," he said.

Agriculture specialists see the new hybrid as a cattleman's answer to drouth. The dry weather plant, which may also be irrigated, will harvest ten to 14 tons of green sliage per acre.

McLaughlin explained that growth of sorghum almum in Farmersville is in the experimental stage. "I would be glad for any one interested in seeing the crop to come by and look at the new hybrid grass," he said.—Farmersville Times.

Celina Students To Enroll For Fall Term On August 30

The Celina School Board announced recently that students for the 1957-58 school term there would be enrolled on August 30. Classes will not begin until the following September 3.

The board also approved the school calendar for the term, as follows:

November 28 and 29—Thanksiving holidays.

Christmas holidays begin with dismissal of classes the afternoon of December 20. Students will return January 2.

Easter holidays will be Friday, April 4 and Monday, April 7.

School term will end May 23.

Among other actions taken by the board was a decision to make the home economics building on the Alla campus available for use as a community center. One of the two kitchens in the building will be left equipped with refrigerator, range and sinks.

Mrs. O. L. Philips was employed to replace Mrs. Allan Willard as cook in the Alla lunchroom. Mrs. Prebble Lowrey is the other cook.

A band director, Richard D. Weir, was employed. Mr. Weir, 25, unmarried, comes from the Mansfield school, where he taught in 1956 and 1957. He taught in the Groesbeck school in 1955 and 1956. He is a graduate of North Texas State College with a bachelor of Science degree in Education with a major in Music.

Another new teacher is Mrs. Glen Philips of Celina, who will teach in the junior high school to be conducted in the Alla buildings.

When the Celina and Alla schools consolidated, it was found that Celina bus drivers were being paid $70 a month and the Alla drivers were getting $75. This inequity has been corrected by all drivers' salaries being set at $75. Drivers are Ed Marks, Robert O'Dell, T. A. Pope, Lorin Yates, and Hayden Isbell.

Until this year, Celina school's colored students had been transported in private automobiles belonging to parents of some of the children, with compensation going to owners of the vehicles. This year, a school bus will be used. Cornelius Young, principal of the G. W. Carver school, will drive the bus temporarily. Celina colored students of high school age have been attending Doty High School in McKinney.

The teacherage on the Alla school grounds will be used as a residence by the principal of the junior high school, subject to approval of the board of trustees of the M. Hubbard estate, to which the house belongs. Urna L. Watson has been named principal of the junior high, where three classes will be taught—the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. Four classrooms have been fitted up for use, in the Alla building. The same lunchroom will be used. Band class will be conducted in the room which had been used for agriculture and vocational homemaking classes will be in the high school buildings in Celina. The playground equipment at Alla has been reconditioned and painted, the park cleaned up and tree trunks whitewashed.

Work on refurbishing the high school buildings has been going forward during the summer, with the floors refinished and considerable painting done. All playground equipment has been moved to the west side of the main building, and the east side of the campus is being filled in, fertilized and sodded with Bermuda grass. The west side of the campus will be used as playground in order that playground activities may be better co-ordinated.

R. E. Murray, superintendent of Celina schools, said that approximate total enrollment this year will be 390. Of this total, 134 will be in high school, 104 in junior high, and 152 in elementary school, based on current census figures.

The superintendent said that children entering the first grade this year, as in recent past years, must present birth certificates on enrolling.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Furr of Rhea Mills and Miss Mary Margaret Button of Weston, have returned from Austin where they attended the Farm Bureau State Institute. Mr. Furr is president of the Board of Directors of the Collin County Farm Bureau. Miss Button is office secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy White and sons are visiting relatives in Charleston, South Carolina.

Bradley street, all of McKinney, Tex., landed on the rugged terrain of Barking Sands, Kauai, Hawaiian Island August 10 as the 1st Marine Brigade launched Operation "Tradewinds," a five-day amphibious sea and air assault employing the latest atomic age concept of dispersal and surprise attack.

The ground component of the brigade, the 4th Marines, met immediate resistance from Marine aggressor forces as they hit the beaches by amphibious craft and landed atop 1,000 foot cliffs by helicopter. The vertical envelopment force was lauched from the Navy's first helicopter assault carrier, the USS Thetis Bay.

Marine Aircraft Group 13, the Brigade's air arm, provided the 7,000 Marines with non-firing close air support and fighter cover as well as aerial transportation of personnel and supplies.

The 1st Marine Bridage, the only co-ordinated air-ground team under a single tactical command, is based at the Kaneohe Bay Marine Corps Air Station.

Collin County Golfers Invited To Tourney

By FRED DICKINSON

The McKinney Country Club has expanded its popular Labor Day Tournament this year, to include every golfer in Collin County.

The tourney will be known as the first Collin County Labor Day Tournament with divisions for both ladies and men.

Five handsome trophies will be given for each sixteen players in both divisions.

Entrance fee is $5.00 for each player. This fee includes as many practice rounds as desired before tournament play starts on August 25th and after qualifying starts on August 17th.

The course is now in the best shape in history due to the heavy rains, this spring, which filled up the club's new lake and has made watering of greens and fairways possible throughout the summer.

The greens are in excellent shape.

Each player in the tournament will be guaranteed at least two matches.

Any Collin County golfer interested should call or write H. Coleman White of the Tournament Committee. Mr. White's address is Box 338, McKinney. His telephone number is Linden 2-5556 at McKinney.

As mentioned above, qualifying starts on Saturday, August 17th and ends at 7 o'clock, in the afternoon Saturday, August 24th.

Pairings will be made Saturday night, August 24th, and on August 25th, the first match play will start with the exception of the Men's Championship Flight.

After the first round in which sixteen player flights will be used, the losers will be grouped into eight player flights as will the winners. Second round matches must be played by noon of September 1st.

Third round matches will be played by noon, Monday, September 2nd with finals that afternoon —Labor Day.

Trophies will be given for the winner and finalist or runner-up in each of the eight player final flights with a trophy to the golfer with the lowest or medal score in each of the sixteen player qualifying flights, for both ladies and men.

In the qualifying rounds between August 17th and August 24th, an eighteenth-hole score must be turned in. However, the Tournament Committee has stated that one of the nine-hole rounds may be played on one day and the other nine on the next day or later.

In qualifying the top green on the No. 3 or "Pecan Tree" hole must be used on the second or "back" nine. This hole, long famous as one of the most deceptive in golf, has been the downfall of some of the best golfers in the Southwest. It is one of the few holes in Texas golf that has two greens, a lower and an upper. It involves three sweeping hills, a lake, a pond or creek, two extremely deep and troublesome roughs with a wide fairway completely dominated by a huge pecan tree squarely in the middle at the top of the middle hill.

The short or first nine green is 425 yards from the tee; the second or back nine green is 535 yards from the tee. The first nine par is 4, the back nine 5.

No chandicaps will be used in this tournament.

In the Men's Championship Flight, first matches will be played on the morning of September 1st; second matches that afternoon; the third round will be played on the morning of Labor Day, Monday, September 2nd, with the finals that afternoon.

All championship matches in the tournament will be played at the eighteen-hole length. All other matches may be either nine or eighteen holes by agreement.

Trophies will be presented Monday at the conclusion of the final matches.

An appeal for more financial support in the area development program, was made at Wednesday's meeting. The Etex CC serves 71 countries in East Texas.

"In spite of the general trend toward higher prices our budget remains the same," said President J. M. Windham of Livingston. "This is a condition that should and must be corrected."

Fred Pool, general manager of the regional organization, Alf Jernigan, assistant manager, and Truett Smith of Wylie, district vice-president, added their voices to the appeal which was made at a meeting of civic leaders from District 1. Thirteen countries are in the district.

President Windham outlined briefly the activities of the East Texas Chamber, which he said is "the one organization that truly represents the businessmen in the area it serves."

He explained the role the chamber plays in the development of the many East Texas resources, including timber, minerals and agriculture. He told also of its work in the interests of better roads, greater efficiency in government and in the development of the tourist trade.

"Such an organization," he said, "shouldn't have to go begging."

Said General Manager Uool: "We need to shed more light on what is going on and it takes money to carry on our program. Remember it is better to light a candle, than to curse the darkness."

Jernigan said the East Texas Chamber is the only privately financed organization that supports all segments of East Texas' economy. In calling attention to the need for greater financial support he said the region includes 20 per cent of the area of Texas, 46 per cent of the population, 50 per cent of the payrolls and 65 per cent of the industries.

Vice President Smith said "District 1 is dragging its feet," pointing out that the regional chamber operated on less money in 1956 than it did in 1955.

F. D. Perkins of McKinney, a past president, spoke briefly on the achievements of the chamber during the last 30 years of its existence.

Local workers were asked to redouble their efforts to assure adequate financial support.

School Buildings At Wylie Undergo Many Improvements

Improvements and additions to the facilities of the Wylie public schools are being completed, preparatory for the opening of the Fall term there September 3.

A new building which will house the vocational agriculture department this year is nearing completion. The structure, 30x100 feet, is of concrete block construction with a concrete floor. It is located southwest of the elementary building and north of the high school building.

Plans are to transfer the manual arts shop equipment to this new building; also, so that this department will share the space there with the Ag. department. According to Supt. R. F. Hartman, this will probably be done for next year and present shop rooms will be used for class room.

A 10-ft. addition has been made to the school cafeteria.

Facilities which have been used for the vocational agriculture department will be converted to use by the special education department.

In the breezeway connecting the high school building with the junior high classrooms, as an office has been conducted for the junior high principal. This will also include space for a small library for the junior high.

Other improvements to the school's facilites made during the Summer recess include a complete re-finishing job to the interior of the cafeteria, and planned before the opening of the fall term in refinishing of the gymnasium floor.

This year marks the third consecutive summer for additions to be made to existing facilities, which have been necessary because of the continuued growth of enrollment in local schools. The school officials are expecting another record enrollment this Fall, and indications are that it will well pass the 600-mark.

LETTERS FROM . . .

THE PEOPLE

Well, we can finally settle the question of the last balloon ascension in McKinney. It took place on July 28, 1932, when the Dan Lee Daredevils, with Bill Hames carnivai, staged the affair at the old fair grounds in the east part of town. Lee had advertized for any young person to make the ascent with him, offering a dollar a minute while up. 19 volunteered, and Buck Bogard was selected by drawing. Buck made four dollars, as Lee cut him loose in four minutes. They landed safely. Several merchants of the city sent merchandize gifts up with them, which was dropped at various heights. One was a sack of White Billows flour—48 pounds. So far as known this was the last balloon ascension in Collin County. All the above from the files of this paper, dated July 29, 1932.
